

"Revive Time: Kaki Tree Project"

The "Revive Time: Kaki Tree Project" is an art project through which people can learn about peace and the importance of life. A kaki tree in Nagasaki miraculously survived the atomic bombing in 1945. We have been handing out saplings from the tree to children around the world and encourage them to express themselves through art on a theme of a kaki tree as they grow the saplings. Art cultivates the imagination to help us feel others' pain and creativity to build a new world. It goes beyond borders, religion, race and even language, and helps us feel sympathy for each other. We have been carrying out the project around the globe for 20 years, and planted the seeds of art, the seeds of peace into the hearts of 30,000 children who have taken part.
